School Athletes Take Part in Wet Provincial Meet

Eleven athletes from Frank Maddock High School competed with students from schools across Alberta at the Provincial track and field finals at the University of Alberta last weekend.

Although unsuccessful in bringing home any 1st place ribbons, the contingent brought back a number of lesser ribbons and earlier accomplished a considerable feat by qualifying at the zone meet to continue into the provincials.

Twenty-one records fell and two were tied at the meet that was plagued by rain and cold throughout. Calgary was the overall winner with Edmonton in second place. The North Central Zone (of which Drayton Valley is a part) won the rural trophy.

Colleen Bengtson placed 2nd in her heat in the junior girls' 60 yard dash, and 5th in the final; Debbie Reid placed 5th in the junior girls high jump; Colleen Bengtson, Debbie Reid, Cheryl Daviduk and Sandy Vasser were 3rd in their junior girls' 440 heat and 4th in the final; Bob Godun was 2nd in his junior boys' 880 heat and 5th in the final, and also 5th in the mile race; Gerald Dusterhoft placed 4th in junior boys' shotput; Dan Wickland, 3rd in the junior boys' 440 relay heat and 4th in the final; Blair Ibbotson placed 3rd in the intermediate boys' high jump; and Jack Palmer 6th in senior boys' long jump.

On the way to the provincial finals the Drayton Valley group had first to get past competitors at the regional meeting at Hinton on May 21st and zone finals in Edmonton.

Competing at Hinton were school athletes from Evansburg, Hinton, Jasper, Edson Jubilee, Edson Parkland, Stony Plain, Wildwood and Drayton Valley. The zone finals had representations from Athabasca, Lac Ste - Anne, Parkland, Strathcona, Sturgeon and Westlock Districts.

Frank Maddock students who qualified at Hinton for the zone finals were: Junior Girls - Cheryl Daviduk, Debbie Reid, Anna

Near Tragedy Averted at Swim Pool

A tragedy was narrowly averted in Drayton Valley Sunday afternoon when an improperly closed valve allowed chlorine gas to escape into the change house and surrounding area.

The Fire Department and town workers responded to the alarm just before 2:00 p.m. and were able to cut off the flow of gas before any serious damage was done.

Fourteen youngsters and a town employee, Rudi Mergchel, were treated for gas inhalation before being released from hospital.

Forty-Seven Year Career Ends With Testimonial Fete

A teaching career that began 47 years ago in the little Tuliby Lake School in northeastern Alberta, is ending this year with the retirement of Mr. Robert J. Elliott, Principal of the Drayton Valley Elementary School for the past six years.

As a fitting climax to a dedicated half-century of service in the education field, members of the profession and residents of the community at large gathered in the Legion Hall Saturday evening for a testimonial dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

Mrs. Elliott did an excellent job of keeping the gathering secret and Mr. Elliott was astounded to enter the hall filled with well-wishers, including members of his family and friends from earlier days.

Following another of Mrs. Bohdan Urchishyn's delicious home-cooked meals, M.C. Orest Haydey introduced the head table and called on Mrs. Ruby Hurley who introduced members of the Elementary School staff with anecdotes of recent years. Toast to the Queen was proposed by Mr. Ross Betton and the toast to Mr. Elliott by Mr. Barry Richer.

The history of Mr. Elliott's career that began at Tuliby Lake was reviewed by Mrs. Olga Brown. Mr. Elliott began teaching in 1924 and following Tuliby Lake, he taught at Earlie, Vanesti, Moyerton, Marwayne, Streamstown, Waskatenau, Lodgepole and finally, Drayton Valley.

Mr. Elliott was the recipient of several gifts from the Elementary staff, presented by Mrs. Hurley; from the Home and School Association, presented by Mr. Bob Cowan; a bouquet of roses for Mrs. Elliott, presented by an old friend from Waskatenau days, Mrs. McNamara; and from guests at the dinner, a stove for the Elliott's camper; also for the camper, a portable TV was a family gift presented by James Elliott.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by members of the Elementary and Separate School staffs who sang and presented skits.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott plan to remain in Drayton Valley where they will enjoy retirement in their home here and the opportunity to travel at will.

Weather Holds Key To Rodeo

Plans are complete, and with co-operation from the weatherman, an entertaining weekend of western action is in store for residents and visitors at the 3rd Annual Evergreen Rodeo to be held in Drayton Valley on June 12th and 13th.

Weekend events will get underway Friday evening at 7:00 p.m. when members of the Alberta Girls' Drum and Bugle Band will perform in the downtown area. The band will also take part in

Determined Swallows Defy Eviction

Hundreds of nesting swallows are creating a problem at the Heidi-Anna Apartments and defying all gentle methods of eviction. The birds are well advanced in the construction of a mud nesting colony under the eaves of the building.

Clusters of moth balls were tried to discourage the birds but were ignored as were attempts to wash the nests off with hoses during the early building stages.

Provincial Fish and Wildlife officers and County of Parkland Pest Control Officers were contacted but were unable to supply an answer to the problem.

Four stuffed owls are now on the way, and hopefully, will convince the birds that the nesting site is an unfavorable choice.

Parade to Start Rodeo Saturday

Plans for Saturday's rodeo parade are well underway.

The parade will make up facing south on 43rd Street south of 50th Avenue.

All those entering floats or exhibits are asked to contact Parade Marshall Harold Reinhart no later than Thursday of this week in order to arrange the parade. Phone 542-3341 or 542-3604.

Society Names Campaign Head

W. J. Douglas, Provincial Campaign Chairman, has announced that Mrs. Bridgid Mulgrew will head the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society's 1971 campaign in Drayton Valley.

"The Society's achievements are entirely dependent on the unstinting and well-integrated efforts of volunteers like Mrs. Mulgrew and other members of the Catholic Women's League", Mr. Douglas said when making the announcement. "The funds collected by these devoted and enthusiastic workers will be used to carry on the Society's plan of attack to control arthritis."

Hail Studies Group Ready For Summer Field Program

Hail up to grape size fell on several days during the last half of May at widely scattered locations through central and southern Alberta, indicating the start of another hail season.

For the last month a team of 30 scientists, technicians and students have been readying the equipment at Penhold for the most ambitious summer field program yet to be operated by the Alberta Hail Studies project.

The program will include a continuation of the observations of storm behaviour that have been made by radar, cloud photography, sampling trucks, and the voluntary farmer reporting system for many years.

But more important, from the farmers point of view, will be the extensive cloud seeding trials to be carried out from the end of June to mid-August. The main aim of these experiments will be to find out whether the new seeding system developed last year shows any evidence of being effective in reducing hail damage. The experiments will cover the whole area within a 90 mile radius from Penhold, and will therefore include the region formerly covered by the commercial weather modification program in the area north and northeast of Calgary. The Directors of the Alberta Weather Modification Co-operative decided not to have a commercial operation in 1971 and fully endorsed the expansion of the Hail Studies experimental seeding into this region.

However, it must be strongly emphasized that the seeding is still experimental and that no promise of protection from hail damage can be made at this stage.

This year, more than ever before, the farmers will play a very important role in the experiments by providing the essential reports on where, when and how much it hails. During the middle of May most farmers living in Alberta south of Edmonton received their 1971 hail reporting kit, including pamphlet outlining the details of Project Hailstop 1971.

As part of the evaluation of the experiments, it is necessary to know exactly where the silver iodide seeding material put into the storm comes out in the rain and hail. Farmers, in the area where it is expected that most of the experiments will be carried out, where therefore asked to volunteer if they were willing to operate a sampling station. The response was excellent, with over 400 farmers offering to help.

About 240 station sites have been selected and are now being set up by Hail Studies personnel. The rain and hail samples collected by these stations during the summer will be taken to Edmonton for laboratory analysis.

The Alberta Hail Studies Project is a co-operative program of applied research involving several government agencies.

The Research Council of Alberta plays the major role by co-ordinating the project and is responsible for the design, operation and evaluation of the seeding experiments.

Analysis of many of the field observations, as well as theoretical research on hailstorm structure and hailstone growth is carried out at the Stormy Weather Group of McGill University under contract to the Canadian Meteorological Service. This basic research provides the necessary scientific foundation on which to base the experimental work.

The Meteorological Service also provides broad operational support in the form of personnel, equipment and forecast services.

The National Research Council has developed the key piece of equipment at Penhold, namely the weather radar, to the point where it is the best available in the world for the specific purpose of studying hailstorms. This year a new tracking radar has been installed so that the position of the seeding aircraft can be continually monitored.

The seeding aircraft, a T-33 jet together with aircrew and a ground support staff, is provided by the National Aeronautical Establishment.

This team effort, together with the unique co-operation of the farmers in Alberta, is making a very useful contribution to the eventual answer of the all important question - "Can hail damage be suppressed?"

Avoiding excessive exposure to sunlight is one way to prevent cancer, according to the Canadian Cancer Society.

'ACTION CANADA!'

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

Alberta's political parties are already gearing for an August election, only a few weeks after Premier Harry Strom put an end to speculation of a June test at the polls.

The days following the premier's announcement were quiet ones for Alberta politicians -- candidates eager for the vote sat back and licked their wounds while the government took the opportunity to gain exposure by announcing details on some programs approved at the Legislature session.

But now electioneering is back in prominence as Tory MLAs renew their attack on government policies and most Socred cabinet ministers return to their desks from post-session holidays.

The Lethbridge Herald kicked off a bitter argument last week when it said a Social Credit commissioned poll showed the government in "deep trouble."

According to the paper's report the Socreds had the support of only 24 per cent of the electorate while Peter Lougheed's Conservatives were favoured by 46 per cent. The poll supposedly predicted the government had only 13 safe seats out of the 75 provincial ridings.

Socred reaction was swift and angry. Acting premier Anders Aalborg described the poll report as "an obvious fabrication" and demanded an immediate and full retraction by the Lethbridge newspaper.

The Socred party spokesman also denied the government hired a California firm to do a survey as the paper had claimed.

"If some American firm is doing work in Alberta, I suspect it may be for the Opposition party since we know they are bringing in people from Ontario and other places to help them" Mr. Aalborg added.

Neither Mr. Strom nor Mr. Lougheed places much faith in public opinion polls as meaningful indicators of electoral support.

"Polls are a reflection of what people thought yesterday," the premier says. "They can be relatively accurate at one point in time but this doesn't mean they will tell us what the situation is tomorrow."

Mr. Lougheed said the Tory party is encouraged by the results of polls done for it by an out-of-province firm but doesn't put much stock in them.

"We've all been aware of the experience in the United Kingdom last June (when pollsters failed to foretell the Conservative upset win)," he said. "I think most political leaders are a bit gun-shy about relying too heavily on polls."

Despite the cynical attitude towards polls, there's little doubt Albertans will hear plenty of conflicting poll results throughout the summer as the two major parties spar their way towards election day.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

New political movements appear to be the order of the day.

The last year has seen the birth of the Western Canada Party, Action Canada and Roch LaSalle's new Quebec-based federal party. Real Caouette has also been attempting to revive the Social Credit party at the federal level with a new emphasis.

Canadian voters will have no shortage of alternatives to choose amongst at the next election if candidates can be found for all these new political groups.

The latest entry into the field is Paul Hellyer's Action Canada.

Paul Hellyer is a superb politician. Like many other politicians he is supremely ambitious. He lost in his bid to become leader of the Liberal Party and some months later resigned from the Cabinet. Since that time he has remained relatively silent, until very recently.

His silence in inner political circles was even deeper than it was in public. Since leaving the Cabinet he has attended few caucus meetings and had not spoken once. He did not take the opportunity provided to each Member of Parliament each week to influence party policy behind closed doors.

It was, therefore, surprising to some when he announced that he would sit as an Independent because of his discord with Government policies.

The well-prepared plans for the launching of Action Canada, the existence for some time of an office for the organization and the timing of Mr. Hellyer's announcement, all indicate that his decision to start a new political movement was made many months ago, perhaps the day that he realized he would never displace Pierre Trudeau as Leader of the Liberal Party.

He has recognized that while Mr. Trudeau is well in control, there is always a great deal of dissatisfaction throughout the country with many Government programs, or lack of them. He has also recognized that the existing Opposition parties have failed to be effective in voicing this dissatisfaction, and generally, in failing to provide a suitable alternative to the present Government. Obviously, he hopes that his new movement will do so and propel him into the role of Prime Minister, or, at least, Leader of the Official Opposition.

Editorial Comment

A Fitting Tribute

It was our pleasure to be among those Saturday evening who paid tribute to Mr. Robert J. Elliott at a testimonial dinner marking the end of a teaching career that spanned almost half a century.

It is also our pleasure to mirror the admiration of the community for a fine educator who has devoted his life to the development of children in several Alberta communities. No doubt Mr. Elliott looks back nostalgically to the days in small country school-houses like Tulliby Lake or Vanesti -- and again, no doubt, looks with pride on the accomplishments of many of those he guided in their formative years.

Think for a moment, of the number of children who have been encouraged by his influence in those 47 years -- and be glad that a man of his calibre was prepared to overlook the inconveniences and low pay of earlier years and continue his dedication to the teaching profession through hard times and good.

The chorus of a song, prepared and sung by members of the Elementary School staff, summed up the feelings of those in attendance at Saturday's testimonial. To the tune of Red River Valley, the song said:

"We are glad to have known you a short time,
Of the forty-seven years that you've taught,
Our best wishes and thoughts go with you,
Happy years, many friends, thanks a lot."

Where Do We Stand?

In an editorial last week The Wetaskiwin Times acknowledges receipt of a letter on a local topic and goes on to say:

"Unfortunately, we can't print this particular letter since there are several statements in it which could be termed libelous. And, when it comes to the area of libel, it is the newspaper alone which is held responsible for items which appear in its columns. Nor can we see any advantage in printing rumors, or statements made by individuals. It's one thing to verbally make a statement, but another to put it in writing for all to read."

The editor of The Western Review echoes the sentiments of the Times editor and it is one of the reasons that prompted our refusal of letters signed by a pen name even though the writer's identity is known to us. The writer's actual name below the letter should encourage a moderate approach and an accurate presentation of facts.

During the past week two more "dog" letters arrived at our office. Both were signed, but both writers asked that their names not appear. Under the no pen name rule, neither letter was printed.

It is our intention to continue the "no pen name" rule and also to continue our refusal of any material that falls into the category specified above by the Times editor.

Leave Wild Bables Alone

If you make friends with an infant wild animal this summer, in your sojourn in the woods, you are condemning it to almost certain death.

Fear, not trust, is the basic law of the wilds. If you make friends with a baby racoon, fox, deer, beaver, your back will hardly be turned at summer's end before it walks fearlessly into a trap that it should have feared like death because of the human scent.

Accustom a squirrel, deer, mouse or any of the birds to come out into the open to accept your gifts of food, and as soon as your dangerous presence is removed, some predator, whether hawk, owl, weasel or fox will pounce upon the little creature that never should have been taught by you to forget the rule that eternal secrecy is the price of life.

Lands and Forests officers all across Canada are asking the public not to pick up fawns, cubs, or other juveniles they may encounter on their summer woodland holidays under the impression that they have been deserted. Hardly a week goes by at most forestry stations that somebody does not turn up with such infant, asking the foresters to take charge of it.

It was not deserted. The unfortunate mother was probably not fifty yards away, hiding in the thicket, watching as its baby was kidnapped.

HART CANTELON

Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

Our son chose to be an auto mechanic, when he reached Grade Ten. Once he started this programme in the composite school in our community, he realized it was a wrong decision. Accordingly, he switched into Senior Matriculation, with the plan that he would go to University. During his Grade Twelve year, he had a nervous breakdown, and had to quit school. Our family Doctor recommended that he have a period of rest, and then try some job. He got work last fall, and worked two months, then quit. He said that it was too hard on his nerves. Now he is at home, disturbed, moody, tired, and can't do a thing. He has been on nerve pills right along, but he is not getting anywhere with them. He is a very quiet type of person. He does not drink. His school friends are married and have moved away. He is very lonely. I suggested that during the past winter he try curling or go to the near-by town weekly for recreation like bowling, but he is ashamed of himself, and thinks that no-one would want him to come. Though we are seeking help from you, where do we turn?

Dear Concerned Mother:

This boy needs continuous counselling. Even though it might mean a weekly trip to your nearest city, get him in touch with a Counsellor who can help him understand his limitations, and also give him counselling support in the decisions that are ahead of him. One of the mistakes that we make in the counselling field, is that one appointment is all that is needed to solve a problem that may have taken years in developing. If you recall your son's boyhood, you will likely be able to see certain traits developing, even as a young boy, which have developed into the kind of problems and stresses that he now has. So do not get discouraged. Help is available. The solution is the long term one. Your son needs the hope and the encouragement which consistent counselling can give. Seek any counselling agency nearest you. I hope you will get the help as soon as possible.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

I am only a new Christian of three years now, and I am very confused. I am attending a Bible Class once a week, and it has helped me some, also I attend church on Sunday's. A few years ago, I had a nervous break-down, and it has left me 'as a child' in so many ways, although I am forty-one years of age. I must find some help before I break again. I cannot be left alone in the house, for I am afraid, and I do not know why. If the family were to go away over-night, I don't know what can happen. In this way, I am standing in the way of my husband's opportunities. I cannot go into a busy store or up in an elevator because of my fears. Where do I seek help?

Dear Concerned:

The natural place to begin, is with the clergyman of your church. I know sometimes that people in rural areas or smaller towns and cities, hesitate to share inner confidences with their clergyman. I assure you that this fear is unfounded. What you should do, then, is to arrange for an appointment with him and tell him that you would like him to call at your home, if you would rather not call at the church office. Tell him what you have told me, in the letter, and ask him that if he feels he cannot handle the situation himself, would he please refer you to an agency who can help. Ask him to make sure that the counsellor that he refers you too, is one who will support you in your Christian faith, and therefore not create an added tension to the ones you already have to face.

Should you rather not make this kind of contact through your clergyman, please contact an agency with a counselling staff, in your nearest large centre, and you should also have a thorough medical with your family Doctor, and he too, will refer you to professional people who will be able to help you. But be assured of this, you do need help, and the sooner, the better.

5,000 Old Car Bodies Picked-up

Honourable Gordon Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways and Transport, has announced that more than 5,000 old car bodies were picked up during the Provincial Clean-up Campaign which ended May 31.

I believe that there are now no old car bodies on the right-of-way of primary highways and I urge the people to keep it this way," Mr. Taylor said.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nerdahl and family from Onoway were out here for the May 24th weekend and visited with the Pete Maciborsky, Paul Simon, Morris Dunn and Ron Blades families. The Nerdahls had come out for the annual sports day which has been held in previous years on this weekend. Apparently quite a few people hadn't heard of the date change and had come out for it. Lets hope we have as nice weather on June 19th as the holiday weekend turned out to be.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Retzlaff of Whitecourt were visitors at the Paul Simon home on the holiday weekend.

Mrs. Sophie Stefura spent a week in Leduc at her son's home, the Vic Stefura's. Margaret brought her back home on Sunday.

Mrs. Bernice Johnson, Debbie and Denise spent the long weekend at Gadsby with Harold at the rig.

The track meet scheduled for last Friday at Winfield was cancelled due to the rainfall but will take place Monday, weather permitting.

Donnie Maciborsky was home on long change, arriving Saturday morning and returning back on shift Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Everett Hurd and family of Wetaskiwin were out for the services at the Covenant Church on Sunday.

Lars Larson was to Calgary last Thursday on business.

The Alder Flats ladies lost the ball game by quite a margin at Buck Lake last Monday evening.

Darrel Patten, Shayne Clemmer, Mr. Ollenberger and Bernice Johnson supplied rides for the students who took part in the track and field meet at Camrose on Saturday.

Shower Planned

A wedding shower for Miss Juanita Block will be held on Monday, June 14th at 8:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Irene Robinson, Drayton Valley. All Miss Block's friends are invited to attend.

Ladies' Fastball Standings Tied

The Drayton Valley High School Fastball Team tied-up league standings on Thursday, June 3rd, when they whipped the D.V. Angels 19-13. The D.V. team hold first place over Seba Beach and Tomahawk in the Parkland County Ladies Fastball League (Western Division).

After a three-inning score of 6-8, the Angels let the High School team surge ahead 15-8, in a helter-skelter fourth inning.

Among strong hitters were Judi Wilkes, Terry Cable, and Donna Hook who surprised the Angels with home-runs.

Coach Bruce Cable and his assistant Rick Lapointe led the girls to their third victory in four games. They encountered their only defeat so far this year when the Angels beat them by a score of 8-5 early in the season.

The High School team has beaten Seba Beach 13-10 and Tomahawk 11-10 and is scheduled to have a rematch with Seba on Tuesday, June 8th at 6:30 p.m. on the Junior High School diamond.

All girls and women are invited to join-up and support your teams. Any high school girls wishing to play may contact Bruce Cable at 542-4289. Women should contact Harold Reinhart at 542-3604.

Gathering Honors Buck Lake Couple

About 80 relatives gathered at the Buck Lake Hall on Saturday May 22nd to help Lawrence and Betty Bohning celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Lawrence and Betty were married May 29th, 1946 in Our Lady and St. Peter's Catholic Church, East Grinstead, England. At the time Lawrence was in the Army serving with the 4th Battalion Royal Winnipeg Rifles C.A.O.F. Betty was working in a welding shop.

Lawrence returned to Buck Lake in the summer of 1946 and Betty came that fall making their home in Buck Lake ever since. The bride of 25 years looked lovely in a yellow lace dress with matching corsage.

The hall was beautifully decorated in white, blue and silver. A three tier wedding cake baked by Marion Bohning and decorated by Frances Nicolls in white, blue and silver was in the centre of the head table. A turkey and ham, dinner with all the trimmings was served. Douglas Milner was master of ceremonies, Herbert Bohning Jr. said grace.

Lawrence and Betty have seven children and eight grandchildren all of whom were present for the happy occasion.

Open house was held in the evening when the couple received some beautiful presents along with a money tree from relatives and friends.

Also celebrated was the Bohning reunion. Five of the seven children, descendants of Anna Rochow and William Bohning were present for the occasion.

Datsun 1200: A little beauty goes a long way.

Depending on how you drive, Datsun 1200 goes about twice as far on a gallon of gas as a standard domestic car. Impressive.

But there's a good deal more to an economy car than great gas mileage.

What's important is how the car behaves while it's covering all that ground.

Datsun 1200 goes from zero to sixty in 15.1 seconds.

Its turning circle is less than 27 feet.

It's loaded with a list of extras that don't cost extra.

And it comes in a choice of Sedan or Fastback models.

(The Fastback costs a little more, but then, it looks a little sharper.)

Datsun 1200. It's pretty, it's powerful, it's fun . . . and it's economical.

Test-drive it at your nearby Datsun dealer today.

Datsun 1200.

A little beauty that goes a long way to drive home its point.

A three-year-old lemon tree grown by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sjuberg of Drayton Valley is in the process of producing quite a crop. Mr. Sjuberg is shown above with the tree and one of the large lemons clearly visible in the lower left corner. Another lemon, almost the same size is hidden by the foliage. The largest fruit is 12 inches in circumference and the tree is also bearing several walnut size lemons. The largest fruit has taken almost a year to attain its present size.

Farmers' Day, June 11, represents the culmination of many hours of planning but it will be your individual participation that will make the day a success. Plan to attend as a participant or spectator. Visit our Product Promotion Booth which is described in the Homemaker's Column.

Also a reminder that the University of Alberta's Ranch Field Day will be held at the Kinsella Ranch on June 14th. The program will start at 10:00 a.m. with a tour of the range improvement phases of the operation plus a tour of the cattle operations.

If you cannot attend, but would like copies of some of the papers of the University's Feeders Day or the Lacombe Beef Breeder's Day on May 29th, we can make an effort to obtain them for you.

In recent days, there has been much concern about the possibility of bloat on pastures where bush or new legume growth is getting ahead of grass in the mixture. It is certainly advisable to pay particular attention to animals that are known to be susceptible to this condition. When turned out for the first time, on a dry afternoon they should have had a good feed of hay, then left out for a short time only. Gradually lengthen the grazing period until they are left on the pasture day and night.

Hay or straw should be accessible to the cattle or a few swaths mowed across the pasture and allowed to cure on the ground. This coarse dry forage induces increased belching and normal rumen activity.

Make sure the stock have an adequate supply of salt, minerals and water. Minerals will also help to prevent the consumption of poisonous plants which are generally found around sloughs. Water hemlock is a particular poisonous plant to watch for in this regard.

A product called Poloxalene has been found to reduce the incidence of bloat by dispersing the foam in the rumen or by preventing it from forming. However, this product has not yet been licensed for use in Canada by the Food and Drug Directorate in Ottawa. Based on the tests in the U.S. on pasture containing a high percentage of legumes, it could be a very useful product when it comes on the market.

I have been asked to include that for any who are still interested in vaccinating your pets for rabies or feel there are enough interested parties in your area to set up a clinic, to contact your local veterinarian.

Healthy Herds Guarded By Constant Vigilance

Although the compulsory calf-hood vaccination program was completely phased out in Alberta three years ago, there are very few cases of the disease in the province today, thanks to the continual vigilance of the federal health of animals division. Of the 19,561 herds inspected during the last year, only seven are in quarantine for brucellosis at the present time.

According to information received by the Alberta veterinary services division, 56,251 blood samples were collected throughout the province by federal veterinarians during routine area testing and retesting of infected herds. These blood samples showed 77 reactors in 54 herds and 914 questionable animals. A further 12,971 samples were collected from 479 herds because of uncertain reactions to routine tests under the market cattle testing program. One infected herd was uncovered and 195 questionable animals found. Under the market cattle-testing program almost every mature cow or heifer sold at a federally inspected packing plant has a blood test taken before she is slaughtered. Another program, known as the brucellosis ring testing program, facilitates the checking of milk and cream at dairies and creameries for indications of brucellosis. As a result of suspicious reactions from one herd to these tests, three questionable animals were found.

Two seriously infected herds were checked continually during the past year. One was a carry-over from the previous year which is now negative, and the other was discovered as a result of a special test conducted because of the animals having been in contact with an infected herd in another province.

A total of 9,451 herds were exempted from routine area tests this year because the blood samples collected by the meat inspection division under the market cattle testing program had been continually negative. Another 2,096 herds were exempted from the routine tests on the basis of negative test results under the brucellosis ring testing program.

TUBERCULOSIS
The Alberta situation regarding tuberculosis is also very good. Of the 18,595 herds routinely tested by the federal veterinarians during the past year only six were placed in quarantine and they have since been given a clean bill of health. Thirty-five reactors were found and removed from 16 herds, but none of the herds were seriously infected, with the majority of reactors showing no visible TB lesions when slaughtered.

An additional 22 herds were tested as a result of referrals by the meat inspection division at the packing plants. One lesion reactor was uncovered which turned out to have come to the plant from another province.

A total of 12,136 herds which would normally have come under routine testing this year were exempted because post mortem findings by the meat inspection division with regard to TB lesions were all negative, and the animals could be traced to their herds or origin.

The Alberta brucellosis eradication program was started in the south of the province in 1968. TB testing has been done for many years in this province and became compulsory in the late 1930's. Under these programs specific areas of the province are tested each year on a rotational basis unless a request is received from the department of public health for a particular herd to be retested or either of the screening programs mentioned above indicate the possible presence of infection in a herd.

Reeve's Report

As promised last month we have finally been able to finalize a budget. With some careful planning and a little paring in a few places, we have been able to maintain our mill rate, in spite of rising costs, without curtailing services. The mill rate will be 66 for the entire County this year, which is the same as last year for the east end or Stony Plain Hospital District, and a 1 mill increase in the west area or Drayton Valley Hospital District. This increase is due to a much higher requisition from the Drayton Valley Hospital District this year than last year.

Our assessment for this year has risen to $52,161,650.00. The increase in assessment also helps offset rising costs, and is a major reason for encouraging growth. The detailed break-down of the mill rate is as follows:

School Foundation Program Requisition	30.00 Mills
County School Unapproved Costs	4.25 Mills
Edmonton Public School Requisition	4.25 Mills
Edmonton R. C. S. School Requisition	4.25 Mills
Tomahawk R. C. S. School Requisition	4.25 Mills
Violet Grove R. C. S. School Requisition	4.25 Mills
Drayton Valley R. C. S. School Requisition	4.25 Mills
School Requisition on Pipe and Power Lines	4.75 Mills
Stony Plain Municipal Hospital Requisition	1.25 Mills
Drayton Valley Municipal Hospital Requisition	1.25 Mills
Hospital Requisition on Pipe and Power Lines	1.75 Mills
Norwood Auxiliary Hospital Requisition	.05 Mills
Meridian Foundation Requisition	.35 Mills
Health Unit Requisition	1.00 Mills
Municipal - General	25.66 Mills
Debtenture Debt	.94 Mills
Regional Recreation Council	1.50 Mills
Recreation - Capital Facilities	1.00 Mills

The total budget will be well over 8 million dollars, with education being by far our largest single item. The education budget is just over 4½ million with public works next at 1 1/4 million. Anyone wishing to see a detailed copy of the budget may do so at the County Office.

In other matters, the matter of entering the preventive social services field was fully explored and council's decision was to hold this decision in abeyance for one year pending the election this fall and the fact that there does not appear to be time at the moment for proper involvement in this type of program. There is always a demand for and usually a supply of old grader blades, with no policy for disposal. Used blades may now be purchased at either the Stony Plain or the Drayton Valley shop when available at $1.00 per blade.

Student exchange programs with other provinces have been approved at Frank Maddock High in Drayton Valley and Memorial High in Stony Plain. The Drayton Valley exchange will be to Ontario and Stony Plain with Quebec. We encourage these exchanges and feel the students will receive a valuable experience by participating.

Approvals have also been received from the School Buildings Board for additions to Spruce Grove and Winterburn Schools. The addition at Spruce Grove will be 10 classrooms, a 2-station Home Economics Room and a 2-station Industrial Arts Room. At Winterburn the addition will include 8 classrooms, a Library and a Gymnasium.

Hopefully these projects can be completed by early fall and every effort is being made to achieve this end.

Sincerely,
Les Miller, Reeve.

LIBRARY NEWS

Sorry, we were unable to get "Five Smooth Stones" as requested. However, a copy of Ann Fairburn's latest book "That Man Cartwright" has been obtained.

Other additions to our collection include: "Lost Empires" by J. B. Priestley. The book gives an account of life in the music halls of Britain as it was lived in the years before the first world war. Priestley has invented a remarkable cast of characters-dancers, comedians, jugglers and magicians.

Noel Gerson's "The Swamp Fox" has proved very popular with our readers.

"Jefferson Square" has an entirely different setting, that of the theatre -- be sure to tell us your opinion after you have read it.

Readers who remember Gerald

Green's "The Last Angry Man" will agree that Green is an author with something to say. "The Lotus Eaters" is another such book. The locale is Florida. The cast of characters range from archaeologists to key figures in the "rackets".

For mystery fans there are several new books.

You are reminded that beginning July 2nd we will be on summer schedule, this is, Friday 3:00 to 5:00 and 7:00 to 9:00.

Will you please be sure to return all books before going on holidays?

Teacher: "Jimmy, tell me what it means when I say: 'I love, you love, he loves.'"

Jimmy: "It means it ain't going to be any cowboy story."

Miss Rita Toews is working in the Medical Centre for the summer. Miss Toews has her Bachelor of Arts in English and is now working on her B.A. in French. She is attending Laval University.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grinde are enthusiastic followers of rodeos. On Saturday, at Rimbey, much of the action took place in a very muddy infield. The chuck wagon races were run in four inches of water and the drivers resembled mud statues by the time the finish line was reached.

Mrs. Leslie Davidson, of Slave Lake, has been with her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson for the past three weeks. Mrs. Davidson is recuperating after major surgery.

The Dunington Women's Group had Miss McDavid, District Home Economist, as guest speaker at their May meeting. Miss McDavid spoke on the subject of Stretch and Sew Knits.

Mr. Samuel Pawluk and his son, Robert, spent the weekend in the district visiting old friends. Mr. Pawluk is a teacher of Manual Arts and in his youth was a well known lumberman in Drayton Valley.

Best wishes for the future happiness go to Mr. and Mrs. Terry Hutchinson, Nee Iona Duperron. Every Wednesday evening baseball enthusiasts from the Dunington District meet at Ted Tucker's farm for informal games. Everybody is welcome from preschoolers to grandparents and everybody has a fine time.

Saw Mr. Vanstone swotting up on the history of the Grand Trunk Railway in preparation for taking a group of young people for a hike on the old railway grade east of Evansburg.

Mr. Parke, from the Department of Youth, is working on a most interesting project for our district this summer. The Federal Government has given a grant of ten thousand dollars to be used in hiring high school students to work on a project to gather local history and record it; also to mark historic spots. Mr. Parke intends that ten students from Stony Plain and ten from Drayton Valley are to be chosen.

KEEPPHILLS NEWS

We're sorry to hear that Mrs. (Granny) Trudge is seriously ill in the Drayton Valley Hospital. We certainly hope she will be better soon. Granny Trudge will be 84 on July 1st.

The George Court family attended a surprise 47th wedding anniversary gathering for Vi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Werbecki at Edson, last Sunday. The honored couple received many lovely gifts. Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Werbecki.

George and Larry Court went to Edson to get a load of fence posts.

Paul and Ollie Yakimcuk now have running water in their house.

In 1961 when we moved to Reno from Victoria onto the old Mundy farm, Reno district was totally without power, phone, running water, sewerage, an all weather road and the TV set. The past 10 years have brought considerable advancement towards modern living. In 1963 the John Maertz family was the first to get a TV. The neighbors gathered every night of the week to watch. My husband and boys used to go every Monday night to watch wrestling. Then in 1964 we got TV which we ran on a light plant. Maertz's ran theirs on a diesel light plant. In 1964 the construction of a new all-weather road had it's beginning. We certainly appreciated this new road as we no longer had to depend on our tractor to haul in our groceries during spring break-up. Next came the telephone in 1966, and the power in 1968. Now the latest fad seems to be getting water and sewer system put in.

Lieutenant Governor. Coffee, sandwiches and cakes will be served free. A special invitation for the old timers to attend. A banquet will be held in his honour at the Legion Hall. Tickets for this banquet are available from any of the Society members.

The museum is now open daily to the public from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

PARKCOURT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Young motored to Manitoba over the weekend. They were attending the wedding of Joan's brother.

Two people in the district were lucky winners this week - Mrs. Harvey Marchand won a food hamper and Mr. Albert Tuftin won a fifty dollar bill.

Miss Cecile Fausak has left for work at Camp He-Ho-Ha where she will be employed for the summer months.

A stag party was held in the Parkcourt Hall on Saturday night in honor of Mr. Andy Kremeniuk whose marriage to Miss Roseanna Udchitz takes place next Saturday. An enjoyable evening was spent and the groom-to-be was presented with a barbeque set.

On Sunday afternoon the Parkcourt Hall was decorated in streamers and hearts and bouquets of lilacs for the shower in honor of Roseanne Udchitz. Seated at the head table were Misses Sharon and Cindy Udchitz, Miss Gloria Kremeniuk, Mrs. Udchitz and Mrs. P. Kremeniuk. Miss Janet Young spent the weekend at home.

Whether grass clippings should be raked up after mowing or not depends on how you look after your lawn, says W.E. Cordukes, a turf specialist with the Canada Department of Agriculture's Plant Research Institute at Ottawa.

If the only care given a lawn is to keep it cut, it is probably best to leave the clippings to decompose and contribute to soil fertility, says the lawn expert. But where lawns are fertilized, watered and kept in good condition, the cuttings should be raked up and removed.

New Drivers' Classification System to Start July 1st

Honourable Gordon Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways and Transport has announced that a new driver classification system will be commenced in Alberta on July first of this year. The Department of Highways and Transport pioneered a method of classifying an operator's licence into several categories and supported a Canada-wide program of driver licence classification for the sake of uniformity and convenience to the people.

Late in 1970 at the Conference of Provincial Ministers, a uniform driver licence classification scheme was approved. According to this system, the operator's licence will be divided into seven categories and Alberta is now prepared to start the new system of classification commencing on July 1, 1971.

A Class "7" operator's licence will be the learner category and a Class "6" licence will be a category set aside specifically for the operation of a motorcycle while a Class "5" operator's licence will be used by the average passenger car and small truck operator. A small truck is defined as one carrying 24,000 pounds gross weight.

A Class "4" operator's licence will be the category in which taxi, ambulance and small bus and school bus operators will be licensed. Class "4" category will be required to submit satisfactory medicals in order to retain this class of licence. A small bus is one having a capacity of 24 passengers or less.

The Class "3" licence will cover the operation of trucks, in the larger category, while Class "2" will cover the large trucks the operation of large school buses and commercial buses. Class "2" category will also be required to submit satisfactory annual medical reports.

Class "1" operator's licence will permit the operation of all motor vehicles.

It will be noted that a motorcycle operates in a class of its own and a person holding any other class of licence is not permitted to operate a motorcycle unless he has been licensed in that category as well.

For further details, the public should consult the Order-in-Council and the classification charts which will be available in every issuing office in the Province.

"This is another step forward in the progress of our Province and in keeping with recommended uniform procedures throughout Canada," said Mr. Taylor.

Lieutenant Governor Grant MacEwan is shown here receiving the first copy of Calgary Power's new book on Alberta history from Board Chairman G.H. Thompson.

Lieutenant Governor Receives First Book

Lieutenant Governor Grant MacEwan received the first copy as a new book series on Alberta history was unveiled in Calgary last Friday.

Against the rustic setting of Heritage Park, Calgary Power Ltd. introduced its 60th anniversary project, a three-volume book series on Alberta and its past.

Entitled "Our Alberta Heritage" the series is offered for sale to the public at a cost of $1.

The books were written by Alberta author Jacques Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton, formerly a newspaper journalist in Calgary, was commissioned by Calgary Power a year ago to research and write the books.

"It was decided early to adopt the anecdote approach to history rather than a year by year chronology," Mr. Hamilton says. "History is exciting. But the unfortunate thing is that young people do not recognize the excitement in the stories from the past. Therefore, I have tried to capture the spirit of Alberta's background by telling little stories about real people who defied odds and developed Alberta into what it is today."

Calgary Power celebrated its 60th year of service Friday.

The Company traces its birth-date back to May 21, 1911, when its Horseshoe Falls plant, 50 miles west of Calgary, began generating power. Today the Company serves 1,000,000 Albertans in a service area covering 75,000 square miles.

The books are an extension of the Company's popular radio series "Our Alberta Heritage".

At the book launching Friday, Calgary Power Chairman of the Board G.H. Thompson presented the first set to Dr. MacEwan.

replacements comprising approximately 70% of the total cattle and calf sales. Trade was moderately active throughout. Slaughter steers and heifers sold under pressure to 50 - 75 lower. Butcher cows uneven to a shade easier on the top end. Bulls steady. All classes of replacements generally steady.

SALUGHTER CATTLE AND CALVES
Butcher steers and heifers opened slow with buyers very selective as to weight and condition. There were sales to 33.00 for choice steers in the opening rounds but prices levelled off to 32.50 at mid-week but were selling firmer with sales to 32.80 as the week closed. Butcher steers 950# and under sharply discounted a full $1.00. With the supply of light heifers 800# and under exceeding demand prices were lower from 50 on heavier weights to 1.00 or more on the lighter end. Good butcher cows opened under some pressure with very few sales to 22.00, for good dry feds. However, as the week advanced the cow trade was fairly active with the odd sale to 22.50. Good cows closed at a practical top of 22.00 with the odd sale higher. Bulls sold steady throughout. Veal calves were 1.00 - 2.00 higher with sales to 53.00 for choice light weights.

REPLACEMENT CATTLE AND CALVES
There was practically no change in feeder quotations for the week. Good green feeders continue to be short of demand and high in quotations. Stock calves were generally steady with weights 300# and under selling over quotations.

SHIPMENTS
Last week's cattle and calf shipments off the Edmonton Public Stockyards were: East - 115 feeders; West to B. C. - 40 slaughter; Export - 52 slaughter. Feeders to southern Alberta areas - 1,070 cattle and calves.

A group of interested people from all parts of the Parkland District, have been meeting to discuss ways and means of advancing the practise of handicrafts in communities and encouraging the preservation of historical artifacts and records.

The group is also interested in helping to publicize and encourage such activities as the handicraft and flower show which will be taking place August 19 in the Stony Plain Community Centre. This fine show of flowers has been presented every year by the Horticultural Society, and this year they have kindly agreed to join forces with the handicraft show for what promises to be a really interesting exhibition of the beautiful things we can grow and create.

The group is also interested in the Opportunities for Youth project in the Parkland District, which will be a program called "Know Your Community" and shows great promise for assembling a valuable collection of historical records. It is hoped that this program will receive every encouragement from members of the communities in the Parkland district.

"SUMMER '71"
"Summer '71" is coming your way - two days of fun and activities for the whole community. Watch for the "Recreation Bus" to roll into your town loaded with supplies, ideas and happy leaders to help the festivities get underway. "Summer '71" takes place throughout July and August, watch this column for the dates for your communities visit by "Summer '71".

Airmail services were pioneered by balloonists in war-torn Paris more than 100 years ago. Britain does not issue special airmail stamps but employs instead special labels -- known to collectors as "etiquettes". Growing numbers of philatelists are becoming interested in these labels which have undergone many subtle design and colour changes in the past 50 years.

Balloons Carried First Airmail

Today, as airmail is whisked effortlessly around the world by giant jets, it is easy to forget that the first airmail service got off the ground long before the first airplane.

In fact it is now more than a century since airborne mail began -- carried by balloon.

It was introduced in the official sense during the Franco-Prussian War of 1870-71, the first of the truly modern wars fought in Europe. Quick-firing cannon and machine guns revolutionized tactics in the field, and an efficient railway system enabled whole armies, equipment and supplies, to be mobilized and transported quickly. The balloon, (tried by the Union forces during the American Civil War and abandoned as unsatisfactory) played an important role in the Franco-Prussian War, especially in the maintenance of communications.

Earlier, soon after the war started, the French had recognized that Paris would be likely to come under direct attack. A colorful character, Gaspard-Felix Tournachon -- usually known by his mon-de-plume of Nadar -- formed his Compagnie d'Aerostiers Militaires (company of military balloonists).

Nadar and his associates were given the necessary equipment, and a detachment of Marines, to establish observation balloon stations around the city.

Eventually Paris became completely cut off by the Germans and plans were made to send mail by balloon. At the beginning of the siege there were six, man-carrying, balloons in Paris and others were quickly put into production.

Some 65 balloons were constructed and flown out of Paris during the four months of the siege. Considering the very rudimentary training which most of the pilots received, the balloon project worked extremely well. Only six were captured by the enemy while two others were blown out to sea and never seen again.

Special postcards were produced for despatch by small unmanned balloons and letters carried by balloon were endorsed "Par Ballon Monte" (by manned balloon) and examples of these letters, though fairly plentiful, are eagerly sought after by collectors. Several newspapers produced special airmail editions, while other airmail journals and newsletters were published to give news from the beleaguered city.

To commemorate the centenary of the siege France issued a 95¢ stamp in January this year and showed one of the mail-carrying balloons.

Entwistle Sets Mill Rate at 80

The 1971 budget for the Village of Entwistle was considered at a special meeting held Monday evening May 31st. This year's mill rate will remain at 80 mills.

There is no significant raise in Education Requisitions. It is felt that Drayton Valley Municipal Hospital requisition might be somewhat higher, final figures are not available at this time, however the 2 mills levied for 1970 was not required by the Hospital Board so any additional costs would be paid out of surplus. The rate for Municipal Hospital services, including The Meridian Foundation was set at 2.36 mills.

The estimated total expenditure for 1971 is $55,763.26. This includes a grant from The Department of Highways in the amount of $13,572.00.

Council would like to remind all ratepayers that there will be no discount on current taxes this year. Your Homeowners Discount card will be enclosed with your tax notice, please complete this card and return to the office early to receive your homeowners credit. If you do not receive a card but think you are entitled to receive this discount enquire at the office. The 1971 Homeowners Discount will not be paid after 1971 so all cards must be submitted by December 31st this year.

Mill Rate Break-down

The Town of Drayton Valley's tax imposition for 1971 is broken down as follows: Provincial School Requisition Mill Rate, 26.27; Supplementary School Requisition Mill Rate, 3.74; Supplementary Hospital Requisition Mill Rate, 3.16; Edson Health Unit Requisition Mill Rate, 3.12; Municipal Mill Rate, 29.51; and Debt Charges Mill Rate, 14.20. -- Total Mill Rate, 80.00.

Mr. Bill MacKay of B. C. is spending a few weeks visiting the Tattersall families.

Mr. and Mrs. Hank Kaiser of Duffield visited Mr. and Mrs. C. Homme last week.

Mrs. E. Homme visited with her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Raymond of Keephills and attended a wedding reception held for Donna and Keith Smith. Donna is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond.

The Mewassin and Burtonsville Sunday Schools have set July 1st as the day for their picnic.

Nora MacDougall was a recent visitor at the S. MacDougall home.

A few bears have been seen lately around here. Recently Arnold Hansen's truck was left stuck overnight and the next day when returning with tractor to pull it out, Arnold and his wife Lucy saw a bear inspecting the truck. The bear left muddy footprints all over the truck.

Visitors to the Adrian Charlet home on Sunday were Mrs. L. Ratke and family of Spruce Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Calihoo and family of Edmonton. Adrienne Charlet and Bernice Lang of Edmonton. The Charlet's guests and Mrs. Charlet visited Mr. and Mrs. C. Homme later in the day.

Bike Parts Found

The Drayton Valley R.C.M.P. Detachment reports that parts of a green bicycle, with a black banana seat and 12 inch wheels have been found. The owner may obtain by identifying.

"My wife dreamed last night that she was married to a millionaire."

"You're lucky. My wife thinks that in the daytime."

Microbiologist Issues Vaccination Warning

Do not vaccinate your cows and heifers against IBR (infectious bovine rhinotracheitis) during the breeding season.

This warning comes from Dr. G. G. Klavino, microbiologist at the Alberta veterinary services laboratory in Edmonton. He explains that vaccinating should always be done during the period between calving and breeding because the vaccine itself causes abortions.

Although vaccinating does not guarantee freedom from IBR, Dr. Klavino recommends it because it certainly reduces the chances of infection. If the immunity is strong enough it will pass to the calves, thereby decreasing the incidence of intestinal IBR in small calves. Protective immunity in animals that have been vaccinated takes 14 to 21 days to develop and can last three years.

Heifer calves can be vaccinated any time after they are four months of age, immunity is not certain. Cows should be vaccinated before being bred; ideally two to three weeks before the breeding season. Dr. Klavino points out that the answers to many questions that are frequently asked about IBR vaccines can be found in the directions that accompany these products.

Isolating all new additions to the breeding herd for at least 30 days is strongly recommended by Dr. Klavino. This precaution is particularly important when the cows in the herd are pregnant. The new animals should be put into a separate pasture and made to drink from a separate water source. It is equally important, says Dr. Klavino, to keep feedlot animals and any cattle which have been purchased at auction markets or sale yards well away from the cow-calf operation.

Although IBR can occur in both beef and dairy cattle, abortions appear in more epidemic proportions in beef cattle because of the type of breeding program used. The disease usually shows up most dramatically in beef cow herds that are exposed to new cattle after having been a closed herd for a number of years. Often one or two months after the new animals have been introduced, the cows start to abort.

Dr. Klavino reports that abortion cases in a beef herd can range anywhere from three or four per cent to as high as 60 or 70 per cent with the average ranging between 15 and 20 per cent. Cows with IBR may abort any time during pregnancy, and the abortions can occur anywhere from three weeks to two months after an animal has been exposed to the virus. Once the cows start aborting nothing can be done to stop them.

According to Dr. Klavino, the veterinary services laboratories diagnosed the IBR virus as 43 per cent of the calves examined from herds with multiple abortion problems this spring. Last year's figure was nine per cent.

It's funny how a man's attitude can fluctuate regarding frozen dinners. It depends on whether his wife is well or whether he suddenly has to do all the cooking.

Close Watch Maintained to Protect Agricultural Industry

OTTAWA -- Lured by charter and other special air fares, Canadians are travelling overseas in increasing numbers and more tourists are coming here.

And more of them are leaving prohibited plants, meats and other agricultural items behind them following customs inspection on their arrival in Canada.

Tight restrictions govern entry of meats, meat and animal products, plants, and plant products (cuttings, bulbs, fruit, etc.) from overseas.

The measures are there to protect Canada's important agricultural industry from plant and animal diseases and pests being brought into the country on imported materials. A plant with soil clinging to its roots can carry any one of the many destructive species of nematode and a small piece of sausage can carry the organism which causes foot-and-mouth disease. Except for a foot-and-mouth outbreak in 1952, which was speedily stamped out, Canada has been free of this costly disease.

The increase in air traffic in just one year is partly reflected in the latest report of the CDA's pest identification laboratory. It is for the 1969-70 year when the number of destructive pests intercepted at ports of entry and identified amounted to slightly more than 1,000. The report notes that one out of three of the intercepted pests came from air passengers' baggage. Even in the heavy travel year of Expo, the ratio was one in six and in 1968-69 it was one in 20.

Faced with the prospect in increases in both the frequency of flight arrivals and the size of aircraft, experts of the four federal agencies involved with inspection work at ports of entry -- Agriculture, Customs, Health and Immigration -- began working on ways and means of speeding up passenger handling at Canada's international airports.

The result of their work -- the primary inspection line system -- went into operation last year at Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver air terminals. A similar system is being introduced at Halifax, Gander and Winnipeg. Customs officers manning these terminals are given special training to increase their effectiveness in carrying out inspection work for the other departments.

For many inbound passengers, the integrated scheme means a one-stop inspection and elimination of delays for agriculture, immigration and health checks. But others, depending on circumstances, may be sent for secondary and more intensive inspection and every piece of baggage may be searched.

A further safeguard is provided by roving customs officers who may select some passengers for secondary inspection after they have claimed their baggage.

Statistics show that the speedup in passenger handling hasn't been achieved at the cost of reduced thoroughness in inspections.

Last year, passengers arriving at Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver from overseas forfeited more than 17,000 pounds of prohibited and potentially hazardous meat and animal products, and hay and straw packing. The lengthy list included such items as sausage, bacon, canned meats, hides, horns and furs.

And other passengers last year were relieved of some 18,000 plants and 8,100 pounds of plant products. The diversified items included potatoes, wheat sheaves, apple, pear and plum rooted tree stocks, heather, grape vines, geraniums, onion sets, conifers, bamboo sticks, snails, mushrooms, live insects, cashew nuts, driftwood, seed necklaces, Polynesian ornaments made from plant products, and even some tiny, packaged palm trees.

Left to their own devices, children will usually follow the straight and narrow. That is, the straight and narrow path across your new lawn.

CDA inspectors, Jean Vaillancourt of the Plant Protection Division (foreground) and Lucien Demers of the Health of Animals Branch, examine an immigrant's baggage for prohibited and potentially hazardous meat, animal and plant products at the Montreal International Airport.

In unfamiliar waters drop-offs and debris you can't see can hurt you. Wherever you swim, make sure the area is safe for swimming. Be water wise. Keep in the swim with Red Cross water safety all summer long.

Canadian hog marketings for the next three months are estimated to run about 2439,6 thousands compared with 2104,2 thousands during the same period in 1970, representing a 16 per cent increase. Alberta estimates call for 510,7 thousand marketings between April 4 and July 3 compared with 418,6 during this period in 1970, representing a 22 per cent increase.

Constructive criticism is when I criticize you -- destructive criticism is when you criticize me!

BRIGHTWOOD NEWS

Did you know that the total distance mileage from Victoria, B.C. and the waters of the great Pacific to the shores of our own Pembina at Brightwood is 655 miles? Travelling at average speed and without stopping except to refuel, the recent trip made by Dave and Kevin Darwin and cousin Chris Kelsall, took 15 hours. The trip on the ferry from Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen took 1 hour and 45 min. of that same time. The boys are visiting their mother and aunt, Mrs. A. Lalonde and family for one week.

The Gordon McEachem family will be attending their annual family picnic on Sunday June 6th at Fort Saskatchewan.

Do any of you old timers remember the time when Art Manchester and Bill Simmons went hunting and shot a momma bear? The men took the orphan bears home; Mr. Manchester had the black bear and Mr. Simmons the brown bear. The brown cub became a delightful and docile pet for the Manchester children but Mr. Simmons' bear was so vicious and mean it had to be shot. The old log building on the Dean farm held the chained mean bear. The pet bear was eventually given to a zoo.

Our Census lady, Mrs. Cherrington of Moon Lake delivered our forms and has returned to pick them up again. We enjoyed meeting her.

Booklet Available

If you're thinking about planting ornamental trees this year and are just a bit uncertain about what's available, the Canada Department of Agriculture has just the book for you.

It's called "A Checklist of Ornamental Trees for Canada" and lists nearly 600 different varieties.

The list includes trees which can be grown in the mild Vancouver-Victoria area as well as those that will grow in Canada's cold north. Each listing includes the botanical name and, where available, the common name of each tree, the tree's height and the coldest area in which the particular species will grow.

As well, all trees listed have been tested for hardiness and rated accordingly.

Copies of "A Checklist of Ornamental Trees for Canada" Publication 1343 are available without charge from the Information Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all who helped to fight the fire on my farm on May 12th. Special thanks to members of the Entwistle Fire Brigade and to the County Police from Drayton Valley.

Mrs. H. Baasch

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the following: Royal Canadian Legion and Auxiliary Warburg Branch No. 215; B.P.O. Elks, Drayton Valley; Red Cross, Drayton Valley; Unifarm Local 949; Lindale Hall Board; the community in general; our friends, neighbors and all concerned who assisted us when we lost our home by fire recently.

Thank you one and all.
Mr. and Mrs. Colin McKeag

LINDALE NEWS

Congratulations to all the members of the Camwood Cloth Cutters 4-H Club, for a fine job of sewing. Their achievement night was held at the Camwood Community Centre on Monday evening, May 31st. All those who attended, report a most enjoyable program, followed by a very nice lunch, prepared by the girls and their leaders.

At the meeting held in Lindale School on Tuesday evening, June 1st, the new public address set was displayed by the Principal, Mr. Finney. Further plans were made for a picnic to be held on June 26th.

Mrs. Rita Wild and Mrs. Bernice Horsman were recent visitors at the Frank Belanger home. Mrs. Belanger is still a patient in Breton Hospital.

A lot of people are relaxing in their spare time with their fishing rods. Some good catches are reported, as well as the tall tales of the ones that got away.

The main topic of conversation of the last few days, seems to be in regard to the census. It has even taken priority over the complaints about the weather.

Don't forget the picnic and dance to be held at Lindale Hall on Farmers' Day, June 11th and sponsored by Unifarm and Lindale Hall Association. The draw for the garden cultivator will be made on that day.

Bob Anderson has taken up residence in Lindale

Another unusual egg has appeared in this area. Some time back we had Siamese twin eggs and this week a banana shaped egg from the farm flock of Mrs. F. Bezludny of Lindale. Mrs. Bezludny says she has been raising chickens for many years, but the banana egg from one of her Honaggar hens, is the strangest she has encountered. The egg, shown above, is about three inches long and about 3/4 of an inch in diameter at its widest point.
